£64m pledge to build more affordable homes in the city

By Eva Astreinidou

AROUND £64million will be injected into affordable housing projects in Oxford to combat 'out of reach' house prices.

Oxford City Council has revealed plans to build at least 2,050 affordable homes in the city up to 2023 to boost the city's current supply of new builds and make the area more attractive to workers.

More than 500 of these will be delivered by council-owned Oxford Housing Company Limited (OHCL).

Current and planned developments include Barton Park, Oxpens, Northern Gateway, Blackbird Leys district centre, and Littlemore Park, among others.

Oxford City councillor Mike Rowley, board member for housing, said 'it is time' government recognises the urgent need for affordable housing.

He said neighbouring areas in Oxfordshire need to cooperate in building more homes, as the city does not have enough spare land.

He added: "Our city – our universities, hospitals, shops and manufacturers all have workers who need to be able to afford to settle down in the area. We're doing what we can, and this is helped where our major institutions and biggest employers who also own housing land, join us in finding shared solutions.

"A big part of the solution is the cooperation of our neighbouring areas. Of the 30,000 new homes we know Oxford needs over the coming years, 8,000 of those can be built in the city, with the rest in neighbouring areas."

A city council representative said the council has spent £17m over the past four years to deliver a range of affordable homes, including social rented, affordable rented and shared ownership homes.

This is in addition to an ongoing planning policy that requires private developers provide 50 per cent affordable homes for all new developments of more than 10 units.

Layla Moran, MP for Oxford West and Abingdon said the ambitious target is commendable but that very few schemes in the city have so far delivered 50 per cent affordable housing.

She said: "There is huge need but no sign, to date, that the city council knows how to deliver.

"We need to see a better balance between housing and employment sites. It isn't good enough for the city to rule out numerous sites for housing and then expect neighbouring communities to pick up the city's slack.

"So while we support the commitment to more funding for affordable housing, the policies must deliver the right outcomes."

Championing education for all girls

SOON-TO-BE Oxford University student Malala Yousafzai met education activists who are working to challenge the barriers that keep girls out of school.

The Gulmakai Network, Malala Fund's new initiative, will support the work of 10 education champions in developing countries to help speed up progress towards girls' secondary education around the world.

The Nobel Prize winner met the educators and activists in the city to talk about combatting obstacles to education, including poverty, war and gender discrimination.

Malala will study philosophy, politics and economics at Lady Margaret Hall from next month.

RAF officers' helicopter crashed hitting a cable

By Eva Astreinidou

TWO capable and dedicated RAF officers died on a tour of duty in Afghanistan after their aircraft hit a balloon cable

The inquests into the deaths of Flight Lieutenants Alan Scott, 32, and Geraint Roberts, 44, opened at Oxfordshire Coroners' Court on Monday

The two well-respected officers from RAF Benson died in Afghanistan on October 11, 2015 alongside Kabul civilian Gordon Emin, 44, whose inquest also opened on Monday, and two US personnel.

They were due to make a routine landing on a football field in the capital Kabul, but flew into an observation balloon cable and crashed to the ground.

The inquest heard how they were following another Puma when they had to abort their landings because the football pitch they were heading for was in use

According to BBC News, Sgt Simon Craig, who was travelling in the first aircraft said he saw the helicopter 'change its course suddenly but then realised the aircraft had hit the tether of the balloon that was 'the width of your finger'

The inquest heard how the cable had bright orange flags attached to it but was still hard to see.

At the time, the family of Mr Scott, who was from Wallingford, paid tribute to the 'wonderful beloved husband' who was 'taken so cruelly and suddenly

Flt Lt Roberts, from Reading, was married with two children.

The inquest is expected to conclude today (Thursday)

Plenty for women in south and west to celebrate

SOUTH and West Oxfordshire are among the top five best places to live in Britain if you are a woman.

The project conducted by the National Centre for Social Research looked at 380 local authorities, analysing categories such as economic opportunities and gender pay gap, access to green spaces, and general living and wellbeing.

South Oxfordshire ranked fifth overall as the best place for women over 65, boasting low female mortality, low crime rate and fewer living alone.

On the other hand, West Oxfordshire ranked top for women under 30, due to low unemployment rates, safety culture, personal wellbeing and education. It was third overall.

However it scored poorly on housing and affordability suggesting that while quality of life may be high there might be substantial financial barriers to young women living there.

East Dunbartonshire in Scotland was ranked top of the list. Islington, in north London, was rated the worst place for women to live

The results were revealed on BBC Radio 4's Woman's Hour

Man died in crash

A MAN in his twenties from Swindon died in a collision involving two cars on Saturday

At around 8.25pm emergency services were called to a report of a Ford Fiesta that had collided with a Range Rover travelling in the opposite direction along the B4507 near Ashbury

The male passenger in the Fiesta sustained fatal injuries and died.

The female driver of the hatchback and two female passengers of the Range Rover were taken to hospital and treated for their injuries.

Police Constable Juha Stroud, investigating said, "We would like to hear from anyone who was in the area at that time and had seen the vehicles prior to the collision or the collision itself and have not yet spoken to us."

If you have any information, call 101.

Assault by teens

A 29-year-old man was repeatedly kicked and punched outside Waitrose in Wantage

Between about 10.30pm and 11.10pm on Saturday, a 'verbal altercation' took place on Wallingford Street

Two boys kicked and punched the victim in the upper body and face.

He suffered cuts and bruising but did not require hospital treatment

Both offenders were white, around 16-years-old and about 4ft 10ins tall. One of the boys was wearing a white cap and black puffer jacket while the other was wearing a white jacket

Two cut from flipped car

THREE people were injured in a two-vehicle crash in which one of the cars flipped onto its roof.

Firefighters freed two people who were trapped in one of the cars before they were taken to hospital following Sunday's collision.

The incident, which happened at around 3.30pm on the A420 near Faringdon, also left the second car with severe frontal damage

Fire crews from Faringdon and Abingdon used specialist cutting equipment to free the pair who were trapped.

There were no serious injuries.

Incident commander, watch manager James Harris said, "Fortunately all occupants were wearing seatbelts if they had not been the injuries sustained could have been far worse.

"I would like to remind people of the dangers posed by wet roads and to ensure you reach your destination safely."

Pub goers rally against closure

Wetherspoon confirms Templars Square venue to shut in March

By George Welch

DEVASTATED pub goers are launching a campaign to prevent a Cowley establishment from calling last orders

Regulars at The William Morris in Templars Square Shopping Centre have created a Facebook page in which they have pledged to do what they can do to save the pub

A post on the page read: "It is come to our attention that The William Morris pub will be closed as of March 31, 2018 Let's get a petition together and stop this happening."

A spokesperson from pub chain Wetherspoon, which runs the pub, confirmed it would be handing back the Between Towns Road-based unit to the landlord in March next year, but it remains unclear why the pub is to close.

Wetherspoon's Eddie Gershon told this newspaper: "I can confirm that Wetherspoon will be handing back the unit to the landlord on March 31, 2018

"At present the final day of trading at the pub is set for March 25 2018 but that needs to be confirmed nearer the time

"Staff at the pub are aware. We aren't saying any more on this at present."

The planned £60million regeneration of Templars Square was initially thought to be behind the decision to close the pub

But developers NewRiver, which wants to build more than 200 new homes, shops, a 71-bed hotel and two new restaurants on the site, have denied responsibility for the closure.

NewRiver director Charles Spooner said: "We will be very sad to see The William Morris pub close in March 2018.

"This is a decision that has been taken by the operator of the pub and we are sorry that it will be leaving, and we will now be seeking to secure a new operator to create a community pub for Cowley."

"We are looking forward to bringing new restaurants to Templars Square as part of our exciting new redevelopment plans.

"We are in discussions with a number of potential occupiers and we hope to be able to share more news shortly."

The Save the William Morris Wetherspoons group was yet to set up a formal petition as we went to press.

75 jobs created as £8million care home is approved

PLANS for an £8million state-of-the-art care home equipped with a cinema room and hairdressers have been given the green light

The home for people with dementia will include 64 en-suite bedrooms, a communal hub with a kitchen, a treatment room, a shop and other facilities such as a café.

The three-storey building on Cowley Road will be built alongside a 21 space car park and 12 cycle parking spaces

The care home will employ 75 full time staff including nurses, care assistants, cooks and administration and maintenance workers for round-the-clock care.

Oxford city councillor Dave Henwood, a member of the East area planning committee who voted in favour of the plans, said: "It was a very successful application

"It is also one of the few specialist homes in the area. The structure is well planned and does not appear to be over density and fits in well."

He commended plans to offer jobs to workers from W G Powell, a family-owned wood merchant previously based on the site that opened in 1923 and closed in 2015

Cllr Henwood said the only concern he has is parked vehicles blocking the view of drivers exiting the premises.

He said there could be signs outside the exit warning drivers on Cowley Road to help mitigate this

The plans submitted by The Orders of St John Care Trust, were approved on September 6.

Doctor charged over sex assaults

A 26-YEAR OLD Oxford doctor has been charged in connection with two sexual assaults.

Anandagopal Srinivasan, of Sandfield Road, Oxford, was charged on September 6

The charges are in connection with an incident at the John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, on October 6, 2016 in which a woman reported a sexual assault and an incident at Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge, on October 24, 2014 in which a woman reported a sexual assault.

Srinivasan, who was arrested on October 6, 2016 has been bailed to appear at Oxford Magistrates' Court on October 10

There are two conditions to his bail – not to enter any clinical areas within any medical premises, except for his own medical care; and was ordered not to practise medicine in any capacity

Signs looking good for the opening of retail centre

WITH less than 40 days until the opening of the Westgate shopping centre excitement continues to grow with the John Lewis sign being lifted into place

The sign for the flagship store which will anchor the new complex when it opens on October 24 was installed by construction workers on Wednesday last week (6/9)

The 140 000 sq ft shop will be the centrepiece in the £440m lion centre which will have more than 100 retailers

Branch manager at John Lewis Oxford Julie Blake said "We've now got less than 40 days to go until we and Westgate Oxford open our doors and seeing this sign being lifted into place is the perfect start to the final countdown.

"Our construction team have been hard at work ensuring each letter was perfectly aligned.

"With the sign now in place it certainly feels as though the shop is reaching the final stage and we're looking forward to moving in"

One of the latest stores to announce it will be moving into the long-awaited shopping complex is global bakery Le Pain Quotidien

The restaurant, which will create more than 30 jobs and cost £1m, will be situated near to the John Lewis store

It will be the second in Oxfordshire following the success of its Bicester Village store

John Lewis manager Julie Blake

Half marathon road closures

RESIDENTS are being advised of road closures ahead of the Oxford half marathon next month

Many roads in the city centre and north Oxford will be closed with many more streets partially closed and changed to one-way systems on October 7 and 8.

The plan includes Magdalen Bridge, Turl Street, Marston Ferry Road, Cherwell Drive and side streets such as Norham Gardens, Belbroughton Road and Banbwell Road.

On the day before the race, a portion of Broad Street will close at 8am. At 6pm the remainder of Broad Street along with Parks Road and a small section of Museum Road will close

These roads will remain closed on Sunday the day of the race, and reopen no later than 6pm. Parking suspensions will be in place throughout this period.

Side streets off Banbury Road will be closed until 1 30pm with roads closer to the start area in Broad Street to remain closed until 2 30pm.

Banbury Road will be closed from St Giles to Marston Ferry Road.

One-way systems will be implemented in South Parade, Oakthorpe Road and Thorncliffe Road until 12pm.

Access for emergency vehicles will still apply

Drink drive motorist caused severe injury

By Eva Astreinidou

A DRIVER who caused life changing injuries to a motorcyclist has been found guilty of causing serious injury by dangerous driving.

Arunas Kirilka, 46, of Kennington Road, Oxford, was found driving while nearly three times over the prescribed alcohol limit.

At around 5 50pm on July 12 this year Kirilka was driving his black Volvo S60 on Oxford Road Banbury when he undertook another vehicle that was stationary at traffic lights

As he pulled away, he lost control of his vehicle and careered into a central island, puncturing both offside tyres before colliding into the back of a motorbike.

The impact caused the motorcyclist to be thrown off his motorbike and into the back of a stationary vehicle.

The motorcyclist a man in his forties, sustained a shattered pelvis, a shattered right shoulder and a punctured left lung. He required surgery and has been left with life-changing injuries.

Following the collision, Kirilka was breathalysed at the scene where he recorded 84 microgrammes

He was arrested and taken into custody where his reading went up to 83 microgrammes the legal limit is 35mg per 100ml of breath.

Kirilka admitted causing serious injury by dangerous driving and driving while over the prescribed alcohol limit.

Following the court appearance, PC Neil Bowker of the Roads Policing Unit, said. "I hope this case once again reiterates the dangers of drink driving, and acts as a deterrent for those who choose to drive whilst over the limit."

Kirilka has been remanded in custody and will be sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on October 6

Shear delight!

GIANT golden scissors were used to cut the ribbon on a supermarket's new convenience store in Oxford city centre.

The Sainsbury's Local in St Aldates, which will employ 25 staff, was opened by regional HR partner Audrey Hamrogue on Thursday last week in the site previously occupied by Black's outdoor wear.

Store manager Mark Fenton said it was a privilege to be running the store in such a prime location.

He added: "Shoppers are looking for more convenient ways to shop and the convenience store sector is growing as a result, with for example, customers picking up items on their way to and from work."

Millions invested in historic RAF base

By Samantha McGregor

A DERELICT former Bomber Command training base undergoing a major overhaul has been given a £3million boost.

Bicester Heritage, the former flying field site at RAF Bicester, was bought by a consortium with ambitious plans to transform it into a specialist business park.

Just four years ago, the 348-acre site was listed on Historic England's 'at risk' register, but it's now thriving.

On the back of the success of the site, Handelsbanken has granted £3m development funding.

The cash will pay for phase four and start phase five of the restoration project.

Phase four includes the release of 10 new buildings and an extra 30,000 square feet of premises, all of which has already been pre-let or is under offer.

Plans for phase five include redeveloping land at the site to create new buildings across 60,000 sq ft.

This will enable bigger organisations to move to the site as well as extend the historic airbase for occupiers who need modern facilities.

Daniel Geoghegan, Bicester Heritage's managing director, said: "The financing from Handelsbanken is a clear endorsement of Bicester Heritage's progress and underlying business model.

"The bank has taken the time to build a relationship and get under the skin of our concept, very much a partnership approach.

"To have obtained funding from an internationally recognised bank such as Handelsbanken reflects the health and prospects of Bicester Heritage's vision."

Chris Andrews, corporate manager at Handelsbanken's Banbury branch, added: "Following an invitation to hear Bicester Heritage's plans for the rejuvenation of the former RAF Bicester station, we were delighted to offer our ideas as to how the bank could help.

"With a robust business model, backed by a real passion for what they do, the Bicester Heritage team have delivered a new unrivalled, centre of excellence for vintage cars in the UK."

When Bicester Heritage opened its gates in 2013 it had six tenants, now there are 40 specialising in the historic car industry ranging from historic grand prix car preparers and magneto specialists, to dealers and exhaust manufacturers.

MP to ask for reassurance over hospital

THE MP for Abingdon is seeking reassurances about the future of the town's community hospital.

Layla Moran is meeting health minister Steve Brine today to discuss the future of the Marcham Road hospital.

She said she would ask the government to clarify it would not be impacted detrimentally as the Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group tries to find nearly £180million of savings.

The member for Oxford West and Abingdon's eventful start to life as a parliamentarian will get even busier after being appointed to a crucial government committee responsible for scrutinising public spending.

Ms Moran, who is now a member of the House of Commons' public accounts committee, said it is a "huge honour" to be appointed to the committee, which is responsible for ensuring government decisions are good value for money.

The Liberal Democrat said: "The committee carries out crucial work holding government and our public services to account.

"It has highlighted many critical failures in government and this mismanagement has had a direct and sometimes distressing impact on people's lives.

"Taxpayers should be confident that public money is being spent wisely, fairly and effectively."

The former teacher elected as an MP in June was appointed as her party's education spokesperson shortly after the general election this year.

Call 111 for improved urgent care service

PEOPLE across Oxfordshire have access to a new and improved urgent care service.

The Thames Valley Integrated Urgent Care 111 service was launched on Tuesday last week, offering 24/7 clinical assessments and treatment services.

The new system brings together NHS 111, GP out of hours and other clinical advice, such as dental, medicines and mental health.

Dubbed the "front door to urgent care", the service covers the Thames Valley area, including Buckinghamshire and Berkshire.

Clinicians will be based at South Central Ambulance Service headquarters in Bicester and at a hub in Wokingham.

It is expected around 30 per cent of calls will be handled by a trained healthcare professional.

Philip Astle, chief operating officer at SCAS said: "Patients will continue to call the 111 number and the trained call handler will assess the person's needs.

"They will be able to arrange for the patient to see or speak to a clinically trained healthcare professional including GPs where this is clinically appropriate."

Pensioner dies in A415 crash

Man arrested for dangerous driving in three-car collision

By Eva Astreinidou

A PENSIONER has died after being involved in a three-car collision in west Oxfordshire in which a woman sustained life threatening injuries.

Police issued an appeal last week asking for witnesses to come forward after the fatal collision on the A415, Ducklington, on Thursday last week.

At around 10.20am a collision occurred between three vehicles a White Ford Transit a Red Peugeot 107 and a Silver Mercedes Vito

The white Ford Transit was travelling north on the A415, when it crossed the carriageway onto the opposite side of the road, colliding with the Red Peugeot 107

The silver Mercedes Vito was travelling behind the Peugeot and was then in collision with the Transit following its collision with the Peugeot

The driver of the Peugeot died at the scene. His next of kin have been informed

The passenger a woman in her sixties, was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital with serious life threatening injuries. She has since been released from hospital.

A 37 year-old man from Oxford has been arrested on suspicion of causing death by dangerous driving and on suspicion of causing death by careless driving while over the prescribed limit.

He has been released pending investigation.

Investigating officer Sgt Beth Walton, from the Serious Collision Investigation Unit based in Bicester said, "I would like to speak to anyone who witnessed the collision or who may have seen any of the vehicles travelling on the A415 before the collision

"If you have any information which could assist the investigation please contact police as soon as possible."

Anyone with any information should contact Sgt Walton based in Bicester via the 24-hour Thames Valley Police enquiry centre on 101 quoting URN 360 (7/9)

Quacking idea reaps rewards

POTHOLES have been repaired thanks to bath-time toys

Villagers in Steeple Aston, near Benbury placed rubber ducks in the area's potholes to protest against the poor condition of roads in May

They decided to no longer be sitting ducks and take matters into their own hands after sending complaints to the county council.

Oxfordshire County Council took heed of the complaints and managed to fix the damaged roads in the months following the complaints and the rubber ducks

A council spokesman said they are glad the residents are pleased with the result.

They added "Doing the work has proved to be challenging due to the fact the road is on a bus route and we wanted to continue to allow access through the village while the work was being done.

"Arranging the necessary road closure takes some time but we are glad that we are now at the stage where the work has been done."

Beer, cakes and coffee on show at Westminster

TWO MPs teamed up with county producers to wow Westminster with a taste of west and north Oxfordshire s finest delicacies

MPs Robert Courts (Witney) and Victoria Prentis (Banbury) were joined by some of their constituency s thriving food and drink producers who were able to showcase their treats in the capital.

From honey to locally brewed beer, the mouth watering event last week spoiled MPs and parliamentary staff at the Houses of Parliament.

Firms from the west of the county to take part included Cotswold Fudge Church Hanbrewery, Ue Coffee Roasters and the British Honey Company

Speaking after tasting all the cuisine on offer Mr Courts said, "Oxfordshire is home to many thriving small businesses, and by hosting this event we hope to demonstrate this to all here in Parliament.

"I am always keen to promote the wide range of innovative businesses we are lucky to have in our area. The event was a great success."

Producers Hook Norton Brewery and Banbury Cakes also impressed from the north of the region

Robert Courts, MP for Witney and Banbury MP Victoria Prentis joined the producers at the House last week

Ms Prentis added. "It was brilliant to see so many people come and sample such a wide range of products from north and west Oxfordshire

"I am so grateful to Banbury Cakes and Hook Norton Brewery for travelling down to help make today such a success

"Supporting our high street and local producers is so important, particularly with more and more people doing their shopping online."

Aid flown out to hurricane-hit Caribbean

HUNDREDS of personnel have been deployed from RAF Brize Norton over the last few days as part of a relief mission for areas devastated by hurricane Irma

The most powerful storm ever recorded over the Atlantic has claimed at least 37 lives across the Caribbean and 10 in the United States

Royal Marines and Royal Engineers Troops left the RAF base for the Caribbean to deliver rations, water, medical equipment and other humanitarian aid on Friday

More personnel left earlier this week.

On Monday, five officers from Thames Valley Police were also flown out to the British Virgin Islands to support those affected by Irma

The move follows criticism that

£8bn plan to shape the future of Oxfordshire

By Eva Astreinidou

AN £8.35billion strategy to put Oxfordshire at the heart of the British economy has been outlined.

The Oxfordshire Infrastructure Strategy (OXIS) outlines projects including housing schools and social care as well as road and public transport improvements

The report by Oxfordshire Growth Board outlines a potential funding gap of £7.14bn to cover the costs of all the projects – Oxfordshire's six main councils and other stakeholders hope central government and other funders will help fill that gap

Speaking at the meeting, city council leader Bob Price said "This is a very important step in a long forward look to 2040.

"Oxfordshire really is a powerhouse of the British economy and we need to think innovatively for the long term, not just about roads but also schools and hospitals, water supply, power supply and to make sure that the growth is balanced out."

He added. "We need to ensure that post Brexit we have the necessary investment to make these ambitions happen."

The report also prioritises projects depending on projected population growth in the county

The report predicts that between 2016 and 2040 there will be 123 500 new homes, 267 000 additional people and over 100 000 extra jobs.

John Disley the county council's policy and strategy manager for the environment and economy said. "We need to get on the front foot for this A common complaint that we get is that housing is done without the right infrastructure.

"This plan is not necessarily what will happen and we will keep reviewing the proposals but it is evidence that we need to move along with funds.

"This is a holistic approach that serves Oxfordshire's best interests and demonstrates what the county needs."

Major projects include:

- A34 improvements
- Rapid bus routes linking key locations
- East-West rail link from Oxford to Cambridge
- Long-term strategy to address congestion on A40
- Redevelopment of Oxford station
- Garden Town for Didcot
- Incentives to encourage businesses to locate and expand within the Science Vale

Speaking about initiatives across the country and how the proposals can tap into funds from central government, he said. "We are [all] fighting for the same money but we are trying to ensure that Oxfordshire works under one vision."

The growth board committee is hoping to approve the proposals on September 28

More homes to benefit from superfast broadband

OXFORDSHIRE will be at the "forefront of digital connectivity as the county gets set for even more superfast broadband.

Through the Better Broadband programme Oxfordshire County Council said it would be looking to "unlock more government funding to roll out superfast broadband to more homes.

The county council was responding to news that, according to the government, the success of the national programme meant a total of up to £645million will be made available to help take superfast broadband to the most remote UK areas

A spokeswoman for the Better Broadband for Oxfordshire programme said superfast broadband coverage in the county was already at 94.97 per cent

She added. "Oxfordshire is well positioned to be at the forefront of digital connectivity in the UK.

"Over 100 000 people in Oxfordshire are now using fibre broadband enabled by the Better Broadband programme, with take-up of services now at 49 per cent. Working with BT, Oxfordshire County Council has very recently been able to extend the Better Broadband for Oxfordshire roll out to include an additional 4,500 premises

"We will be examining the potential to unlock more funding and look forward to exploring all available options."

Comments are a 'great regret'

Uni head on homophobic remarks

By George Welch

THE head of Oxford University has distanced herself from comments she made urging students to engage with professors who had expressed homophobic views.

Vice-chancellor Louise Richardson, pictured, said it was a "matter of great regret that the endeavour to make the university a "diverse and inclusive institution had been questioned following her remarks at an education summit.

Students had accused Prof Richardson of defending professors who had expressed views against homosexuality

Prof Richardson said at the summit " .I say (to students), I'm sorry, but my job is not to make you feel comfortable...and if you don't like his views you challenge them and engage with them and figure out how a smart persoo like that can have views like that "

The professor was lambasted for her comments and hundreds of university academics, students and alumni signed an open letter condemning her earlier comments

and calling for an apology

Student Union president Kate Cole said, "Freedom of speech is not an excuse for homophobia."

Clarifying her comments in a public statement, Prof Richardson said: "I might have hoped that a career long track record of speaking out against discrimination in all its forms helps answer the concerns being expressed.

"It is a matter of great regret to me that my words are being used to call into question this impressive, sustained endeavour to make Oxford a diverse and inclusive university

"I am proud of everything we do in this regard and I give it as I always have, my wholehearted support."

Sculptures stand out in blood cancer campaign

A LIFE size 3D letterform sculpture of a Wallingford resident has gone on display as part of a public art installation in London to mark the launch of the Make Blood Cancer Visible campaign.

The sculpture of Rupert Beazley's first name stands at 5ft 10in tall – his height – and is one of 104 sculptures on display during September

This month marks blood cancer awareness month and the 104 individuals that are diagnosed with blood cancer every day

Rupert said his diagnosis of Chronic Lymphocytic Leukaemia (CLL) – the most common form of leukaemia in adults in the UK – came as a "frightening and traumatic shock".

"I had very little information and found it hard to explain what living with this incurable blood cancer meant.

"Since my diagnosis I'm very proud of having become a trustee of the CLL Support Association (CLLSA), the only UK charity dedicated to providing education, support and advocacy to help empower people living with CLL."

Rupert Beazley and the sculpture of his name

The installation in Paternoster Square aims to bring more attention to blood cancer across the UK

CLL is a cancer of a type of white blood cell called a B lymphocyte which plays a role in the immune system this makes CLL patients at increased risk of infections and other diseases

CLL cells can accumulate in the bone marrow blood, and lymph nodes and can cause organ enlargement tiredness weight loss night sweats and fever

Jewellery returned

A WOMAN who had jewellery stolen from her will be reunited with the items after a police investigation.

On August 29 a Henley jeweller contacted neighbourhood police after he became suspicious when he was offered two small bags of jewellery in return for cash. He declined the jewellery and the person offering it left the store

A police officer attended the store, spoke to the jeweller and viewed CCTV footage of the exchange.

Following an investigation, many items of suspected stolen jewellery have been recovered from a shop in Reading

Detective Sergeant Aidan Donohoe said. "This jewellery has been identified as coming from a burglary at a house in the Henley area that happened in late August."

He asked any businesses dealing in second hand jewellery to be alert to suspicious transactions and contact the police if they are offered anything which concerns them.

Funding helps ex-offenders back into society and work

EX OFFENDERS are being helped back into society thanks to a grant funded by money from the police

Aspire Oxford has received £2,500 and used the money to support its Through the Gate project, which focuses on building links between ex-offenders and employers and in turn can break the cycle of re-offending.

The grant awarded last year by the police property act fund helped the organisation engage with employers and also provided ex-offenders from Bullingdon and Spring Hill Prisons with ongoing mentoring and guidance.

Police and crime commissioner for the Thames Valley, Anthony Stansfeld said. "I am delighted that we have been able to help Aspire Oxford in their efforts to assist ex-offenders in Oxfordshire.

"As some of the money within the fund is from seizures from criminals it only seems fitting that the funding should be used to either help those most affected by crime or in this case help to rehabilitate those who have previously offended."

Chief executive officer of Aspire Oxford, Paul Roberts said: "This funding has enabled Aspire to support ex-offenders into and towards employment at a critical stage in their transition and we've produced an employers' handbook that breaks down stigma and helps local companies become more inclusive in their recruitment practices.

"The benefits of this funding for our local community will be immense."

The police property act fund is created from money recovered by the police and the proceeds from the sale of items that cannot be returned to identified owners, including seizures from criminals

Aspire was one of 40 organisations to receive over £140 000 from the fund last year

Business park welcomes first client

A BICESTER manufacturer has become the first company to take on a unit at a new business park in the town.

British Bakels announced it has pre-purchased an 80 000 sq ft building at the Link 9 commercial development off Skimmingdish Lane

British Bakels which manufactures food ingredients for bakers and supermarkets is a key local employer with more than 200 staff.

Building work will start on the new unit soon and will open next summer

British Bakels, which moved to Bicester in 1990 said the new site would be an additional distribution facility to support its main manufacturing operation in Granville Way

It currently rents extra storage space in nearby Murdock Road.

Base's big birthday bash

THOUSANDS of military personnel and their family and friends enjoyed a day packed with activities displays and musical performances to celebrate RAF Brize Norton's 80th year

The military base's extra special annual Families Day and Brizefest on September 2 was a way for the station to say a big "thank you" for everybody's support and commitment.

Crowds of visitors were entertained with a variety of activities including displays from the RAF Falcons the RAF police dogs and a mountain bike stunt team.

Station commander group captain Tim Jones said. "Today is a thank you to the families of RAF Brize Norton, to the military the regulars the reserves, to the civilians and contractors and all the families who support us.

"We have had a brilliant turn out and it's great to see everyone having great fun and what a nice way to end the summer."

This year's event attracted record ticket sales John Coghlan's Quo and Back for Good, a Take That tribute act, entertained the crowds.

The night ended in spectacular style with a fantastic fireworks display

School fears if homes plan is given approval

By Eva Astreinidou

PARENTS fear pupils in a small village may have to move schools if plans for a development of 74 homes are given the go ahead.

A campaign group fighting the development says it is "outraged limited school places could mean children have to move schools.

The county council has warned the current infrastructure in East Hagbourne would not be able to accommodate the increasing demand for school places.

In response to parents' concerns, a county council representative said. "It s highly likely a larger proportion of its pupils would be drawn from within the catchment area, and a smaller proportion from outside the catchment area – since 'in-catchment' pupils have priority when families apply for school places

"It would not, of course, mean that current pupils at the school who live outside the catchment area, would have to move to alternative schools."

The campaign group 'Red light Greenlight' has also been fighting against what it describes as 'dangerous' development plans as traffic across from the primary school would increase. Campaigners have requested a road safety audit to examine the risks

A spokesperson from Greenlight said the developers carried out a transport assessment report that concluded that while the development would slightly increase traffic flows on Main Road and past the school, adequate pedestrian facilities would be available for children to safely access the school.

They added: "OCC Highways have also now confirmed that they have no objections to the proposals.

"As part of the planning application traffic calming measures are proposed on Main Road including a raised junction table and a gateway feature on the approach to the entrance to the village on Main Road to slow vehicle speeds past the school. This would take the form of a white picket fence provided in the verge on either side of the carriageway with a 'Welcome to East Hagbourne Village' sign."

Barrie shows great fortitude to complete mammoth event

By Eva Astreinidou

A FEARLESS man looking to test his mental strength has returned from an epic four-day challenge.

Barrie Jackson, from Goring Heath, has so far raised more than £980 by hiking the 978 metres of Scafell Pike, cycling 100 miles and completing a half marathon.

He was one of 62 colleagues who crossed the finish line in Birmingham on Thursday last week after taking on the challenge in support of Mental Health UK.

He and his colleagues from the Lloyds Banking Group have raised a whopping £317 097 by testing their resolve through The Fourtitude Challenge – a name chosen to reflect that one in four people experience mental health problems.

The demanding challenge is in aid of Lloyds Banking Group's partnership with Mental Health UK which aims to promote awareness of the link between mental health and money problems. Barrie, 48, said: "The challenge was really tough. The individual elements were challenging enough but doing them one after the other over four days was truly exhausting. We bonded as a team during the challenge and our collective determination helped me through it. I hope this challenge inspires more people to get involved and help raise money for this important cause."

Barrie Jackson has completed The Fourtitude Challenge with 62 colleagues

The fearless Fourtituders set off in four teams, one from each of the home nations, and climbed the highest mountain in their respective countries on the first two days.

On day three, they came together to take part in 'the long road' challenge, cycling 100 miles across hilly Peak District roads.

As if that wasn't enough, the next day participants left before dawn to take part in the Out of the Dark challenge, a half marathon along the Birmingham canal towpaths.

Fiona Cannon, responsible business and inclusion director at Lloyds Banking Group, said: "It's great to see so many colleagues taking part in the challenge with determination, stamina and positivity."

Brian Dow, managing director of Mental Health UK, added: "I want to say a huge thank you to all involved."

Burglars steal cash

THREE burglars stole cash and threatened a 69 year-old woman in her home in Berinsfield.

The men entered the house in Abbey Woods Close on Tuesday last week around 12.10am, searched it and threatened the woman but did not injure her before stealing the cash.

It is not known if they left on foot or in a vehicle.

The first offender is a black man, aged between 25 and 30 and about 5ft 11ins to 6ft tall.

The other two are aged in their late teens or early 20s and both have slight builds. One is white but the ethnicity of the other is unclear.

All were dark or grey hooded tops, and dark full-length lower body clothing. They may have been wearing black trainers and blue gloves.

If you have any information, call police on 101.

Film makers bid to make other news

TWO Bicester-based film makers are using their experience working in local television to create their own comedy documentary.

Ross Arrowsmith and Scott Morgan have spent months putting the finishing touches to the script and putting the cast together.

Last week, filming for the pilot episode, called In Other News, got under way and is expected to be ready by the end of October.

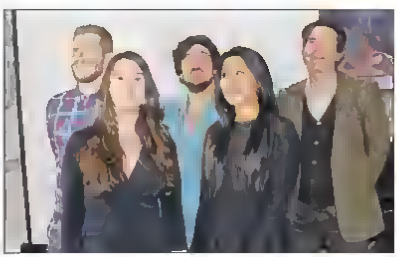
Ross said the idea for the show came from humorous situations he and Scott encountered while working in local television.

Set just after the launch of fictitious TV channel South UK TV Oxfordshire, the show documents the escapades of the people behind the scenes as they report on "ridiculous news stories, overcome technical difficulties, deal with eccentric local citizens all whilst fulfilling their Ofcom requirements".

Ross said: "Think the Anchorman film meets The Office.

"All of the cast and crew originate from Oxfordshire, with the episode set in various locations around the county.

"For some of the cast, this is the first ever acting project.



Ross Arrowsmith, right and above the cast of In Other News which is due to be ready by the end of next month

"Once the pilot episode is completed, the plan is to produce a full series of six 20-minute episodes following the story of a small television channel."

A crowdfunding campaign is due to be launched in November to raise the £6 000 needed to fund the further five episodes.

Filming will take place at Oxford Office Furniture, which has donated some of its office space to the team to create the studio where much of the episode is set.

College scheme to be more inclusive

AN Oxford University college will be implementing new measures to 'broaden diversity' and support less well-off students.

Christ Church College will offer four annual scholarships for students with outstanding academic potential from low or middle-income households as well as summer bursaries to help students with living costs to carry out internships or other work placements.

The college will also look to strengthen its existing links with organisations that help young people from less advantaged backgrounds.

Dr Jennifer Yee, tutor for admissions at Christ Church, said: "I came here from a completely non-Oxford background, and I've found it to be a remarkably friendly and relaxed place. The people here come from more diverse backgrounds than you might think, but maintaining and broadening that diversity is something we need to work on. That's why we're introducing these new access initiatives."

Photos focus on secret life of uni

By Eva Astreinidou

NEVER before seen photographs of life, work and centuries-old traditions at Oxford University are on display.

The exhibition by world renowned British photographer Martin Parr features 69 images taken over three years, documenting some of the most iconic and interesting traditions and events at the university.

Mr Parr said: "I have long been fascinated by Oxbridge and when this opportunity arose to shoot a long-term project, looking behind the scenes at the secret life of Oxford University, I jumped at this challenge. I had access to events and scenes well hidden away from public view and this was a great privilege to both witness and document."

The unique photos include a group portrait of the university's inter-college tortoise race, behind-the-scenes photographs of some of Oxford's college balls, as well as photographs of end-of-exam 'trashing' and other events that have been a part of Oxford life for centuries.

Mr Parr has also photographed academic life including tutorials, lectures and cutting-edge research activity and college life.

From 2014 to 2016 the photographer was given unique access to ceremonies and celebrations across the university.

Richard Ovenden of the Bodleian Library, said: "I'm sure this new collection, looking at the many different aspects of Oxford life will be of huge interest to Martin's fans, local residents, visitors and alumni alike. This is a rare opportunity to see work of a brilliant photographer who normally only exhibits at larger international galleries."

The free exhibition is at the Weston Library until October 22.

Beth Copeland collects her award from Inspector Chloe Robinson

Student cops police award

A UNIVERSITY graduate from Kidlington has won a Thames Valley Police award for picking up top marks in her studies and the quality of her work on the force.

Beth Copeland, of High Street, graduated with first-class honours in police studies with criminal investigation from Buckinghamshire New University.

The 21 year-old was presented with the Thames Valley Police Shield at her graduation after impressing while working as a special constable in High Wycombe for two years.

Beth, who is now working as a 999 operator at the force's BCU in Kidlington, said she was 'very honoured' even to be nominated and that winning the award is one of her proudest achievements.

She added: "The highlight of my three years at Bucks New University was most definitely the two years in High Wycombe.

"I enjoyed it so much I have continued working in the role alongside my position in Kidlington.

"Working as a special constable gave me a valuable insight into the world of policing, of the experiences that officers face daily and the pressures that are facing policing officers in contemporary society."

Senior lecturer Maurice Collins praised Beth's positive attitude and energy, adding that she was an excellent student and a 'role model' to others.

Inspector Chloe Robinson, who presented the award, said Beth was "a credit to the special constabulary and an absolute pleasure to work with."

Celebrating 10 years of giving

By George Welch

AS a teenager Andy Baker had an idea that a one-off charity football tournament was just the start of an emotional journey that would help change the lives of thousands of people.

He can t quite believe that 10 years ago yesterday he and a friend founded Play2Give, a fundraising group that has raised more than £60 000 for charity

It all started with a football tournament in 2007 raising money for Oxford Children's Hospital.

And this year he has been the driving force behind a record breaking year that peaked with his personal proudest moment—being awarded a British Citizen Award for his non stop fundraising.

His 'baby' has gone from strength to strength and is looking to smash this year s goal of raising £10,000 in its 10th year.

The 29-year-old former St Birinus School pupil, who described the milestone as a 'dream' said. "When I formed P2G 10 years ago never did I imagine that it would have become the true success story that it has today

"Never did t think P2G would still be going a whole decade later—from what was just a single event back then as a football tournament to the ever-growing fundraising organisation that we are today"

Andy Baker received his British Citizen Award from TV presenter Michael Underwood in July

Andy suffered a brain injury as a baby and had brain surgery again aged 12 and has used his own experience as motivation.

More than half a dozen charities have benefitted from his fundraising efforts but his two main benefactors – Headway Oxfordshire and Oxford Children s Hospital—have helped him negotiate the troubles of living with brain injuries

His condition can lead to severe headaches extreme tiredness and an uncomfortable loss of balance—but this hasn't held him back.

Andy added: "P2G is only here today thanks to everyone who has got involved, been involved with or donated, or sponsored in some way"

Top barks for puppy pupils

YOUNG canines graduated with top barks as part of puppy awareness week.

The group of puppies successfully graduated into dog hood after completing a six-week programme at 'puppy school' in North Hinksey, Oxford

Together with their owners, the four pups – Cockapoo Megan, rescue pup Mayhem terrier Murphy and Jimbo the Bichon Frise – spent six weeks learning obedience, socialising and nutrition, and are just one group of over 20 across the country doing the same

Gwen Bailey, founder of Puppy School, said: "We re delighted to be celebrating the graduation of some of our amazing classes of 2017 – they've achieved so much in just six weeks and are a credit to the tutors and the owners who have worked so hard. We look forward to hearing how they progress after their graduation."

The course was organised by Natures Menu and the puppies were congratulated by managing director Craig Taylor

Trial drug helps to give student a life

A PhD student being treated for blood cancer has encouraged patients to learn about NHS research after a new trial drug helped him get out of bed again by himself.

Previously bedbound Thomas Nealon, from Oxford, is now able to regularly commute to London's Brunel University thanks to the drug.

The 39-year-old took part in the CARDAMON trial and pain has since eased.

As part of the experiment, researchers are trying to figure out whether a drug taken with two others is more effective at making the cancer go into remission than a stem cell transplant which can cause complications

Mr Nealon enrolled on the trial after his diagnosis in October 2015 and made his plea to other patients as part of National Blood Cancer Awareness Month (September)

Patients wanting to participate should ask their doctor or visit www uktcg nihr ac uk to find out more about research opportunities.

Antisocial behaviour

THERE have been numerous reports of antisocial behaviour and criminal damage in Marcham including broken windows and items being moved. Police have increased patrols especially in the evenings and early hours.

Its official.

Hearing aids can do more than improve your hearing.

Following a survey carried out in 2015 by Anovum (a market research company) on 1325 hearing impaired people (605 hearing aid wearers and 720 not wearing hearing aids). The survey reports that hearing aids not only improve capabilities of hearing well but also improved the general health of hearing aid wearers compared to hearing impaired people who do not wear a hearing aid. Hearing aid users are less likely to think they have the symptoms of dementia, feel less physically and mentally exhausted, sleep better and are less likely to suffer from depression

The survey confirms what some Audiologists have suspected for some time, that hearing aids are not only good for correcting hearing loss but in fact contribute to better and more active lives, better quality of life, and better overall health.

For the hearing impaired workers who wear a hearing aid it is reported that their hearing aids are useful for their job and that the hearing aids also increase the chance of them getting promoted, being in the right job and getting more salary compared to those hearing impaired people who have not obtained hearing aids

The full report can be found at EuroTrak UK 2015 – ehima

A new hearing system is just the beginning and a hearing aid system is only as good as the audiologist prescribing and programming it.

At Keith Donaghy Hearingcare we offer the best bespoke hearing aid systems virtually unnoticeable fitting comfortably into your ear.

Keith will help you every step of the way whilst you adjust to your new hearing ability, for some this takes months for others a matter of a few weeks but Keith is always on hand to answer questions or give advice on getting the best from your system. The last thing he wants (as is often the case when insufficient aftercare is available) is for your hearing aids to end up in the back of a drawer somewhere, unused because you felt that nothing else could be done to rectify any programming or rehabilitation problems.

Keith wants to know if you have any concerns about your hearing aids no matter how big or small, so that you and he can work together to achieve the best results.

Female scientist to help develop the next generation

A HEALTHCARE scientist who works in Oxford has been chosen as an 'ambassador for the next generation of women working in the field

Dr Lisa Ayers, pictured, an immunologist who works at Oxford's Churchill Hospital will be undertaking special leadership training through the Chief Scientific Officer's (CSO) Women in Science and Engineering fellowship (WISE) which starts this month.

She has been selected for the prestigious programme that launched in conjunction with International's Women Day last year

Over the coming year Dr Ayers will have the chance to be mentored by senior leaders in healthcare industry and academia.

She will also have the opportunity to join senior leaders at NHS England healthcare science advisory meetings

Speaking about the opportunity to represent the Oxford University Hospitals (OUH) Trust, which owns the hospital, she said. "I have been very fortunate to be surrounded by inspiring female role models in the Trust, who have supported and encouraged my aspirations I now wish to use this experience to encourage the next generation of healthcare scientists."

Dr Ayers, who has worked for OUH for the past 12 years volunteers as a STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics) ambassador, providing support to schools local career fairs and national science competitions

She undertook her clinical scientist training in immunology, studying for a Masters and PhD part-time

Last year she was awarded a healthcare science rising star award.

Safety concerns at Bullingdon

Report finds high levels of violence, drugs and gang problems

By Eva Astreinidou

THE prisons watchdog has warned that a prison in Oxfordshire is not 'safe enough'

A damning report on HMP Bullingdon found the prison has high levels of violence, a drug and gang problem, and needs more staff.

This comes after an unannounced inspection of the Bicester prison which holds 1,100 prisoners between April and May

In the last inspection in 2015, about a third of prisoners felt unsafe and violence remained high.

At the time the watchdog made 17 recommendations in the area of safety but in the follow-up inspection it found only seven of the recommendations had been achieved, had 10 had not been reached.

The latest report from HM Inspectorate of Prisons reads "Far more prisoners than at similar prisons and than at the time of the previous inspection said that they had felt unsafe at some time at the establishment, that they currently felt unsafe and that they had been victimised by other prisoners, often because of drugs, debt, gang-related activity or being new to the prison."

According to the report, the number of recorded acts of violence had increased sharply and peaked during the summer of 2016

The report, released on Wednesday last week, said the number of serious assaults on other prisoners had increased and averaged around six per month, while the number of assaults on staff had also increased, to almost seven per month.

The report also cited 'severe, ongoing staff shortages and that drugs, mobile phones and weapons were regularly discovered.

But Peter Clarke, chief inspector of prisons said many at the jail were "doing their best" to make things better

He added. "The key message from this inspection was the urgent need for increased staffing. It was clear to us that this was a strategic problem that was undermining everything the prison was trying to do

"Despite this, many – not least the governor – were doing their best to effect improvement and were proving capable in doing so

"This suggested that there was cause for continued optimism."

Spring into Action

Now's the perfect time to replace your garden fence once and for all Anna Ryder Richardson - Designer and Television Presenter - takes a closer look at Colourfence, the revolutionary low-maintenance system

It s been ten years since I regularly graced TV screens helping transform people s living spaces with MDF and stripped floorboards Recently it s been more "celebrity muck out" than "celebrity make-over" as I took up the challenge of owning my own Wildlife Zoo in Tenby In this time I ve learnt quite a bit about fences and having researched the various options for my own benefit I thought I would share my knowledge with a wider audience

The latest design processes mean there is now a tremendous array of fencing products for you to choose from constructed from a variety of materials Each has its own attributes, and ultimately it can often come down to a matter of personal preference. For me there was one unique system that stood out as providing the best balance between price and functionality which eradicates fencing problems for good. Or for at least 25 years Colourfence For quality value, longevity aesthetic design this fencing system ticks all the boxes Fencing made for the 21st century that will transform the look of your garden which is supplied and fitted by a company whose customer service is as good as the product.

In my view Colourfence is the 'Rolls Royce' of fencing—just without the exclusive price tag What s more, it s guaranteed to stay in place at up to 130mph winds and is virtually maintenance free.

To find out how the experts from Colourfence might help you, I suggest you call 01865 582 171 and speak to their team

"I honestly believe that Colourfence is the best general purpose fencing product on the market today!"

Colourfence: The ultimate garden fence?

For many Colourfence is perhaps the ultimate choice. For the last 15 years it's been widely used across the UK and has steadily gained a reputation for its quality By using thin ghost specification Colorbond steel as the fence structure itself, complemented by the highest level of customer service from accredited Franchisees, Colourfence is now regarded by many as the premier fencing solution in the market Immune to the rot and resistant to the weather that so quickly effects wooden fences, Colourfence has none of the drawbacks of wood plenty of additional benefits and what's more it's better value!

Gardeners' Questions

Q Wooden fence panels just don't seem to last - is there a storm resistant alternative?

A The Colourfence system has been tested under cyclonic conditions to withstand storms with wind gusts up to 130mph Unlike your wooden fence - once professionally installed – Colourfence really will stay up!

Q No matter what I treat my wooden fence with - nothing seems to prevent it rotting or looking shabby for very long.

A Treating your fence is a thankless and expensive task it s also a losing battle Wood simply wasn t s to rot Colourfence offers a low-maintenance alternative where by an occasional wash down will keep it looking great for up to 25 years! GUARANTEED!†

Step into Spring – with COLOURFENCE

The only garden fence you will ever need!

Every gardener knows that it pays to plan ahead. If you are one of the thousands of people who watched helpless as winter winds battered their garden, it will not be a surprise that garden fences are almost always the first casualty Whether you have previously patched, painted or simply prayed to keep your fence going there's no escaping the fact that timber fences will always fall victim to the weather With Colourfence you can put your garden straight once and for all Colourfence is scientifically tested and cyclonically rated to ensure when professionally installed, it can withstand wind gusts of up to 130mph Once it's up – it stays up and is guaranteed to look good year after year Safe, extra secure and hassle free – you will NEVER need to paint it, treat it or patch it. An occasional hose down will be all you need do to keep it in top condition for years to come In fact the system is so durable that Colourfence will guarantee† their fencing to last at least 25 years Available in a range of colours to suit any garden, with or without decorative trellis, the highly skilled installation team make short work of their dramatic transformations Your sad old fence will be efficiently cleared and replaced, leaving you to get back to enjoying your rejuvenated garden Pricing is just as straightforward and equally attractive Starting costs are in line with inferior timber systems but with no annual treatments required Colourfence saves you time and money each and every year Their aim is your peace of mind With a 25 year guarantee† Colourfence speaks for itself and promises a lifetime of hassle-free enjoyment.

Out & About

Your guide for your leisure time in & around Oxfordshire

It's just a walk in the park

Try Nordic Walking in Cutteslowe Park

What a feeling! Flashdance hits the Oxford stage

Take a walk in the park

WITH the latest health advice recommending we all do 10 minutes of brisk walking a day, how about trying out Nordic walking?

What's so great about it is that everyone can do it!

Nordic walking is the fastest growing fitness activity in the world and can be enjoyed by anyone of any age.

It's a highly effective way to get fit, is affordable and fun and doesn't require any expensive equipment or clothing.

Walkers simply use poles to exercise their upper body as they walk. The poles help to propel the walker along meaning you work harder than usual but the support from the poles makes it feel easier.

Oxford City Council is celebrating the benefits of the exercise at its first Nordic Walking Festival later this month.

Whether familiar with the exercise or not, all are encouraged to go along and give it a try and find out more.

The event takes place on Saturday September 23 in Cutteslowe Park from 1pm to 4pm and includes:

- Free taster walks for those new to Nordic Walking (at 1pm, 2pm and 3pm)
- A £2 timed lap of the Cutteslowe Peace Mile to challenge more experienced Nordic Walkers (every half an hour between 1pm and 3.30pm)
- A £3 Nordic Walk into the countryside surrounding Cutteslowe Park for those who have already completed a Learn to Nordic Walking Course (1pm or 2.30pm)
- Opportunities to meet the team of local instructors and find out more about upcoming Nordic Walking courses
- Opportunities to book onto upcoming courses
- Tea, coffee and refreshments

Councillor Linda Smith, executive board member for leisure, parks and sport, said: "I'm really looking forward to giving Nordic Walking a try at Oxford's inaugural Nordic Walking Festival in beautiful Cutteslowe Park later this month.

"It promises a full body workout suitable for most levels of fitness and also looks like great fun. Why not join me in giving it a go?"

Residents who want to find out more about the festival can contact the City Council's Sport and Physical Activity Team on sportsandphysicalactivity@oxford.gov.uk

Drink beer and help repair roof on hall

Marsh Gibbon villagers are gearing up to stage their third annual beer festival to help raise cash to pay for vital repairs to the village hall.

This year locally brewed beers and ciders will be on tap courtesy of XT Brewery, based in nearby Long Crendon. Billed as a family event, there will also be live music, a barbecue and entertainment including go-karts for the children.

Organiser the Marsh Gibbon Village Hall Committee, is urging people to come along and join this "really great event" on Saturday.

The beer festival will raise money to pay for repairs and an extension to the village hall, which was built in 1976.

And this is not the first time villagers have come up with ingenious ways to raise money to support the village hall.

In order to raise enough money to build the current hall, Marsh Gibbon organised and hosted steam rallies.

The first took place in a farmer's field in 1971 but the event quickly grew – the third rally was the biggest working steam rally in Europe.

Combined the stream rallies have raised £2m which was enough to pay for the new village hall.

It takes place at Marsh Gibbon Village Hall, in Clements Lane, OX27 0HG, and the fun starts at 1pm.

Flashdance, what a feeling!

By Samantha McGregor

FLASHDANCE the Musical makes a return to the Oxford stage starring Strictly s Joanne Clifton and a1s Ben Adams

The pair team up this month at the New Theatre treading the boards from Monday until Saturday as the musical returns to the UK for the first time since 2011

Strictly Come Dancing champion Joanne Clifton plays the role of Alex and a1's Ben Adams will play Nick.

Flashdance is the story of 18-year old Alex a welder by day and "flashdancer" by night, who dreams of going to the prestigious Shipley Dance Academy and becoming a professional dancer

When a romance complicates her ambitions she harnesses it to drive her dream

Based on the Paramount Pictures film Flashdance this inspiring musical is about the power of holding onto your dreams and love against all odds.

Combining stunning choreography and an iconic score including the smash hits Maniac Manhunt, Gloria, I Love Rock & Roll and the award-winning title track Flashdance - What a Feeling this production is set to get audiences feel tapping

As well as starring in BBC's Strictly, Joanne is also a World and European Champion ballroom dancer and is one of very few pro dancers to have won both the main Strictly glitter ball with Ore Oduba last year and the Christmas Special in 2015 with Harry Judd

Joanne made her musical theatre debut in the role of Streetwalker in the musical Face The Music and followed this up with a turn as Marilyn Monroe in the Norma Jeane Musical and as Millie Dillmount in the UK Tour of Thoroughly Modern Millie

Ben Adams who will join Joanne on stage as Nick Hurley has been singing and performing since the age of eight.

His career started as head chorister at St Margaret's Westminster Abbey and at 16 he became the lead singer of the band a1 who racked up 10 million record sales and two UK number ones

Ben said: "It's amazing to be part of such an iconic story and as an 80 s child I was brought up on this music so I couldn t be happier playing Nick in the theatre production of Flashdance "

For tickets go to the New Theatre box office on George Street call 0844 871 3020 or go to atgtickets com/oxford

On stage

All directions point towards folk band

Canadian folk band The East Pointers are gearing up to cross the Atlantic for a UK tour which includes an Oxfordshire date

The trio – fiddler and singer Tim Chaisson Koady Chaisson on banjo and guitarist Jake Charron, play the Thomas Hughes Memorial Hall in Uffington on October 19

The tour comes hot on the heels of the band s new album, What We Leave Behind which is released on September 29

Produced by songwriter and producer Gordie Sampson What We Leave Behind is the follow-up to their 2015 JUNO award-winning debut Secret Victory

The single 82 Free was born out of the band s real experience of the d sastrous Australian wildfires last year. Koady Chaisson said. "While on tour n Penguin Tasmania we spoke with an older gentleman a lifelong resident, who said that there were 82 wildfires currently on the loose in Tasmania, the most in over half a century

"It hit home the severity of what we were all experiencing while we were there Being in the middle of that brings an mmediacy about it. You can feel powerless "

Get ready for a night of 1980s classics

Get ready for a blast from the 1980s as three favourites take to the Oxford stage this autumn

Midge Ure, pictured, The Christians and Altered Images will stop off at the New Theatre for one-night only on Tuesday October 17

Part of a nationw de tour the g g is headlined by Ure, who returns to his synth roots after going acoustic for a period with his band Electronica.

Taking to the stage alongside the former Ultravox singer are The Chris tians who are celebrating 30 years since their f rst album, and Clare Grogan s Altered Images

Ure will perform hits such as If I Was, and, of course Vienna which was recently voted by BBC Radio 2 listeners as the greatest ever track to reach Number 2 in the charts

John's going Headlong into his UK tour

By Samantha McGregor

SINGER and guitarist John Smith will stop off in the city as part of a UK tour promoting his album Headlong

Tickets are available for John's appearance at St Barnabas Church Oxford on Thursday November 16

Produced by Sam Lakeman and featuring Cara Dillon on backing vocals Headlong is the follow up to Great Lakes John's last album which was released in 2013

Headlong is Devon-born John's fifth album and was dedicated to the late John Renbourn of Pentangle who called him "the future of folk music"

John said "His death really hit me hard He was so much more to me than someone I'd played with and who had encouraged me

"He was a friend as well so I wanted to reference him on this album – that's why I've dedicated it to his memory"

Among the tunes is Breakneck Motion – written during various touring stints playing guitar for the likes of Lianne La Havas and Lisa Hannigan.

While many of the songs here are inspired by John's wife and new born baby – he says together they form a magnetic north of sorts for Headlong

His wife is the source of the redemptive unconditional love to which Save My Life is indebted – she's also the Joanna of the track that bears the same title

John, who has toured Britain Europe and America extensively has opened shows for artists as diverse as Iron and Wine John Martyn, Tinariwen and Gil Scott-Heron

He has also played on sessions for Joan Baez, Cara Dillon and Joe Henry among others with La Havas and Hannigan both recruiting him to play lead guitar in their bands

And John is not set to stand still any time soon. His UK and European tour kicked off this month and he will play guitar on the forthcoming album from Joan Baez and there's an appearance on the upcoming Martin Simpson album in the pipeline

On stage

Read Wipers Times

Tickets are still available for Ian Hislop and Nick Newman's critically acclaimed The Wipers Times which comes to the Oxford Playhouse from Monday to Saturday

Set in the First World War this stage adaptation of the award-winning BBC film is about two officers who find a printing press in a bombed out building in the Belgian town of Ypres and publish a satirical newspaper to lift the spirits of the fronting troops

Tickets from £15 are available from the box office on 01865 305305 or at oxfordplayhouse.com

Tale of school life

There's still time to catch one of Terence Rattigan's best-known plays, The Browning Version performed by Thame Players at the Players Theatre until Saturday

Set on the last day of a classics master's final term at an English boys' school what does the future holds for the academically brilliant but rather stuffy inflexible and disliked Andrew Crocker-Harris and his vivacious and popular wife

The play exposes a sad and poignant, yet ultimately inspiring and restorative, tale of love and longing

Tickets cost £9 and are available from Spear Travels, Greyhound Walk, by calling 01844 217228 or go to thameplayers.co.uk

ADVERTORIAL

Simple steps homeowners can take now to protect their assets.

Head of April King Legal Paul King explains why some homeowners are doing too little, too late to protect their hard-earned assets.

Paul King, Head of April King Legal

Care Cost Fees

"A lot of people are still unaware that if they need care in later life, then assets will be means-tested by the Local Authority to help pay for these services."

"The Local Authority will look to use the assets of a person until they get down to a lower limit of £14,250, when the Local Authority will take over the fees."

"For instance my own grandmother sadly passed away recently at the age of 92. My grandfather had died many years earlier and left everything to her."

'When she needed care in the last six years of her life, because my grandfather had left everything to her, the house and all the estate was counted in the Local Authority's means test."

"Our clients tell us, 'We've worked hard all our lives, why should the Local Authority get it all?'"

"Just as she died, she had gone down to that lower limit of £14,250 and that's all her children inherited."

"There are many myths about the steps people can take to protect their assets from being used like this."

"The main one is that a parent should simply sign their house over to the children now, so it won't be taken into consideration for means testing. That's just not true."

"Local Authorities will actually look to see if you've 'deliberately deprived' yourself of an asset by giving property away, going back over any period in time."

"Sometimes people think that if the gift is made seveo years prior then the house is safe. This is not so as the seven-year rule only applies to Inheritance Tax and not Local Authority care."

"The solution is for couples to simply not leave everything to each other in the first place."

"What my grandfather could have done is leave his half of the house in trust to his children, stating that they couldn't have it while his wife, my grandmother was still alive. We call these Property Trust Wills."

"If my grandfather had left his half of the house in trust to the children theo when my grandmother subsequently received care in her later life she would only have been means tested on her own half of the house, but my grandfather's half would have been safe."

"Why should he have to contribute his half when he didn't receive uny care?"

"The important factor is that couples need to act in advance. Once one party dies or loses mental capacity, through a stroke for example, then they are no longer in a position to do this legitimate and straightforward type of planning."

'It is therefore important for couples to act oow eveo if they may not foresee care fees being an issue."

Paul goes on to explain that most clieots he sees are surprised to learn remarriage usually cancels a Will and makes the spouse next in line to inherit, ahead of their owo children! Protecting your half of the house in this way, he suggests, ensures that your children ultimately inherit wheo the survivor dies.

'Had my grandmother remarried after the death of my grandfather the whole estate could have passed sideways out of the family," says Paul.

Lasting Power of Attorney

Paul explains how people often get confused thinking that, because they have made a Will, their executors can also deal with assets if there is illness stroke or some other form of incapacity while they are still alive.

'Everyone should actually have two documents – a Will that deals with their estate on death, and a Lasting Power of Attorney that deals with their estate during their lifetime," he says.

"There are two types of Lasting Power of Attorney – one deals with finance, the other deals with health and welfare."

"In many ways it's similar to a passport, a document that's registered now and one which can be physically handed to the attorneys should the need arise."

"It allows the attorneys, perhaps the children, to deal with the banks and pension companies etc should their parent become incapacitated, but also to deal with matters such as where the parent should be living and how they should receive care."

"Your attorneys, again perhaps your children, must legally act in your best interests at all times."

"You can choose a number of attorneys to act, either jointly or independently, and April King advises on the various options available."

"Couples are often surprised to discover that even joint bank accounts can be frozen until the bank sees sight of a Lasting Power of Attorney document."

"Having a Lasting Power of Attorney removes the burden on children should ill health happen further down the line."

"It helps a family deal with bank accounts and so on during a parent's lifetime and ceases on death."

"Crucially, you have to complete a Lasting Power of Attorney while you are still in good mental health."

"If someone becomes ill through say, a stroke or dementia, this option is lost and the family would have to apply for a Deputyship Order from the Court of Protection a drawn out and expensive process."

'It is therefore a good idea for clients to plan ahead and remove any future burden from the family."

"Once again, all adults should be thinking of this, particularly when there are children or a business involved."

"It's not just something to think about when you get older, that's the challenge for us."

"People think, 'I'm not ill, why do I need to make a Power of Attorney?' But they're missing the point. This is a document that has to be done in advance."

"The Lasting Power of Attorney remains in place until you die unless you want to cancel it."

"Once it's registered, you don't have to worry if you then develop some debilitating illness. A burden has been removed from the family at an already difficult time."

Bloodline Trust Wills

The majority of April King's clients have already made standard 'Mirror Wills' with other firms before approaching the Firm. A Mirror Will is when a couple leave everything to each other on the first death, then to the children when the second partner dies. But modern family life means these type of Wills leave a lot to chance.

Explains Paul. "If I have a Mirror Will leaving everything to my wife and she remarries or goes into care after my death then either the new husband or the Local Authority are likely to inherit most if not all, of my estate ahead of my children."

"Even if my children are named in my Mirror Will, it is by no means certain that they will inherit anything."

"Once again, this is because a remarriage would cancel the Will my wife had previously made with me and make the new husband next-of-kin.

"This often comes as a big shock to my clients who had perhaps thought that all was in order and that the family bloodline would one day inherit."

"The same is true for thinking that their children and/or grandchildren will one day benefit under a Mirror Will."

"If any of your children should die leaving everything to their husband or wife and that son-in-law or daughter-in-law should then remarry, then your grandchildren would be the ones to lose out under the line of inheritance."

"Worse still, someone else's grandchildren would be in line to receive the benefit of all your years of hard work."

"I've experienced this in my own family and I'm sure most people have had similar experiences or heard of someone who has."

'Bloodline Trust Wills give greater protection to your children."

"These type of Wills not only give your children complete control and access to the inheritance they receive from you, they also grant added protection from the twists and turns of modern family life."

"The wording in these Wills states that any money left over on their demise must pass to any children born of them – your grandchildren."

British Motor Museum launches its autumn programme of workshop

The British Motor Museum is delighted to announce its autumn series of motoring related workshops. Topics covered include photography, drawing and classic car ownership. Each course is facilitated by an expert and includes entry to the Museum so participants can visit the extensive collection of historic British cars.

'Lights, Camera, Cars' will take place on 14 October. This course complements 'Cars through the Lens' with a greater emphasis on experimenting with lighting and flash guns. The cost is £75 per person.

'Cars through the Lens' will take place on 15 October. Perfect for beginners, this course helps participants take the perfect photograph of a car and learn when and how to use different settings. Topics include how to control light and composition, the rule of thirds and perfect angles and how to make photography fun. The cost is £40 per person.

The popular 'Classic Virgins Experience Day' returns on 21 October. This hands-on, informative day is aimed at those considering buying and owning a classic car. Experts will deliver guidance on the theory of classic car ownership and provide workshop-based basic maintenance sessions. After the workshop session there will be free rides in a variety of classic cars. The cost is £90 per person.

'Writing your Motoring Memoirs' will take place on 21 October. New for 2017, this course provides participants with the tools and guidance they need to write their own unique story. Participants will learn how to successfully access more of their earlier life; create a structure for their work, choose what stories to include; and even reviews the options they will have when the memoir is finished. The cost is £50 per person.

'Cars through the Lens goes Studio' takes place on 11 November and aims to develop participants photographic techniques in a studio setting, showing them how to achieve the best composition and lighting. The cost is £75 per person.

'Automotive History in Watercolour' takes place on 18 November. The workshop will take participants through the process of creating a classic watercolour painting including practical hints and tips to help understand colour, shade and light as well as basic composition. The price is £40 per person.

The final workshop is 'Sketching from Automotive History' which takes place on 19 November. This workshop will guide participants through a range of techniques for producing a car study from start to finish. Build confidence in sketching by developing techniques while exploring tone and composition. The cost is £40 per person.

Emma Rawlinson, Family and Lifelong Learning Officer at the British Motor Museum stated, "We're delighted to again offer these fascinating workshops to enable participants to learn skills in photography, drawing and classic car ownership along with expanding their motor industry knowledge. Please note pre-booking for all our courses is essential."

Majliss
INDIAN RESTAURANT

Don't just take our word for it.....

In June restauranteur Raymond Blanc visited the Majliss Restaurant on the Cowley Road, Oxford and highly recommended the restaurant! In particular he loved the Brinjal Bora (deep fried aubergine).

He also said that the Majliss restaurant "serves the very best modern Indian."

Kia Picanto 'GT-Line' 1.25

Little car puts the fun back into driving

By Tony Yates

THE Kia Picanto is a wonderful little car in every way – and this new updated 'GT Line' version is pretty special with its fancy detailing and modern touches. The new Picanto also comes with some of the latest connectivity packages for the modern driver, but without paying a premium.

Actually, it's funny, but for me, Kia has always been a good brand – and I know many owners who would be very happy to agree with me. Plus for the last few years – I have continually talked about being a big fan of anything from Kia – because basically they offer you more for less. This is something I wish all manufacturers did.

Power & efficiency

The Picanto I had on test was powered by a four-cylinder 1,248cc petrol engine with 83bhp of blissful horses sitting under the bonnet. The torque figures for such a sweet engine come in at 122lb/ft at 4000rpm. 0 to 62 mph is also dealt with in 11.6 seconds which is actually good. If we move onto the top speed of the Picanto – you can expect around 107mph.

The official fuel economy figures from Kia are, 61.4 mpg (combined) with a CO2 rating of 106 g/km – which may not be the best in its class – but it's not poor either. And when it comes to how it performs on the road – that's when the Picanto puts the word fun back into driving. Plus the Picanto loves to be revved and that 5-speed gearbox is a peach to use with nothing to complain about on any level.

On the road

The Picanto is surprisingly throaty and charismatic and that 1.25litre engine provides an adequate amount of torque – enough to allow the Picanto to hold its own in traffic on A roads or on the motorway. The suspension is also pretty good at protecting you from the worst of the road surfaces. I was also impressed by the light steering control in town and its easy manoeuvrability on the daily commute to and from my office in city traffic.

Design & technology

On the inside, the Picanto has some really nice detailed interior touches that feel nicely put together – while the interior plastics used are good and more than up to the job of giving a good premium feel to all the surfaces. The seating is also premium based – with the driver's seat adding height adjustment, which makes it relatively easy to get comfortable and whilst there is room enough for five, those in the rear may find it a little tight – but remember this is a small car so it's no different from anything else on the road of a similar size.

There is also plenty of kit inside the 'GT' Line such as; ABS, Hill Start Assist, Automatic Headlights, LED Daytime Running Lights, Electronically Adjustable and Heated Door Mirrors and Automatic Wipers. You also get a 3.8" Monochrome Cluster Display including Bluetooth and Music Streaming, USB port, Aux port and a Trip Computer. There's even a couple of cup holders for those in the front along with a whole bunch of safety systems including ESC, AEB, ESS (Emergency Stop Signalling) and a motor-driven power steering system. Overall then, not bad at all.

To sum up

For me, this car offers fantastic value for money. Plus, with the Picanto 'GT Line' starting from only £12,450 on the road, that makes it quite the bargain actually.

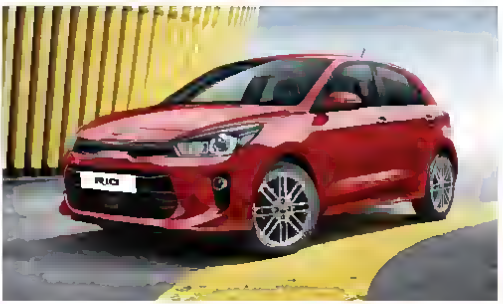
Oxford car dealer launches scrappage scheme

Looking for a new small car before Christmas? If you've got a car that's over seven years old to trade-in, then head down to the Brayley Kia showroom on Rose Hill.

Kia's Scrappage Scheme bonus is worth £2,000 for customers purchasing a brand-new Kia Picanto or Rio, when ANY old car is traded-in for destruction. But hurry, as the scheme is only available until the end of December 2017.

Echoing Kia's marketing leading 7-year warranty, the new scheme applies only to Kia's two smallest and lowest-emission models. It's simple and easy to understand and is guaranteed as long as the buyer of the new car is also the owner of the car being scrapped.

This means owners of cars over seven years old can upgrade to the latest safety equipment, technology and comfort offered in the hugely popular Picanto and Rio models, as well as helping to reduce emissions and saving themselves some serious money. Brayleys' takes care of the whole process and arranges for traded-in vehicles to be destroyed through regulated vehicle scrappage channels, so all you need to worry about is which model to choose.



So, if you're thinking of a new car for the New Year then now's the time to take advantage of Kia's Scrappage Scheme and bag yourself an early Christmas present at Brayley Kia Oxford.

There's more information about the scrappage scheme at www.brayleys.co.uk/kia or you can get in touch with their helpful team on 01865 475174.

F1 - Renault

Will Singapore sling Renault up the table?

Nico Hulkenberg has scored all of Renault's 34 points so far this season. Will Singapore be more successful? Formula One Group

RENAULT are hoping to chase down Williams in the battle for fifth place in the constructors' championship as F1 leaves Europe for the final seven races of the season.

The two Oxfordshire sides are separated by 21 points, with Williams currently occupying fifth spot while Renault are eighth.

Renault believe this weekend's race in Singapore will be more suited to their car, after struggling last time out on the long straights of Monza.

Managing director Cyril Abiteboul said: "Williams sit just 21 points ahead of us in fifth place and, with seven races to go it's very much in our capability to chase that down by the end of the season.

"We need to create some momentum and string together some consistent results with both cars inside the top 10. Singapore will be vital to kickstart this effort.

"Marina Bay is an interesting and challenging street circuit raced under the lights of the night-time sky. It's fast kinks and tight and twisty infield means it is much more suited to our car than the previous round in Monza."

Prior to Monza, Nico Hulkenberg had scored two sixth-place finishes in three races, with Renault showing themselves to have the fastest car behind the top-three teams of Mercedes, Ferrari and Red Bull on those occasions.

Hulkenberg has scored all of Renault's points so far this season and is looking to win more this weekend.

He said: "We're finished with Europe but ultimately Italy was a difficult weekend for us as a team.

"It's disappointing not to come away with points. I got stuck in traffic in the race and couldn't do too much.

"I'm going to get it off my mind as soon as possible and gear up for Singapore – I'm looking forward to it as we should be more competitive."

Jolyon Palmer is still waiting for his first point in 2017 after suffering yet another retirement in Italy, and his future with the team has once again come under speculation this week.

Rumours are flying around that Toro Rosso driver Carlos Sainz will be taken on for next season, with some sources reporting the switch could even take place before the end of the year.

In July there was much talk former F1 driver Robert Kubica could make a comeback with Renault.

Renault have not commented on the rumours.

Secret to street success

F1 - Haas

DOWNFORCE and tyres will be key to a good performance at this weekend's Singapore Grand Prix, according to Haas team principal Guenther Steiner.

The Banbury-based team is battling with Williams, Renault and Toro Rosso for fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth in the constructors' championship and is looking for some good results after failing to score last time out in Italy.

A high downforce setup will be needed in Singapore and Steiner also thinks how the cars use the tyres will be just as important this weekend.

He said: "It's not only about downforce levels, it's also about how to use the tyre and which level of downforce we need to run.

"As always this year it's not only about how good we are, it's how good our opponents are and how they can get their cars to work at the circuits.

"We always see where we end up with our other opponents in the midfield."

Romain Grosjean and Kevin Magnussen are currently 13th and 14th in the standings with 24 and 11 points respectively. Haas are seventh in the constructors' table on 35.

BRADLEY Smith picked up his best result of the season with a 10th-place finish at the San Marino Grand Prix at Misano on Sunday.

The 25-year old Oxford racer survived the torrential rain to move up from 22nd on the grid to finish in the top 10 as many riders struggled to stay upright.

It also marked the best weekend for his KTM team in their debut season, as team mate Pol Espargaro finished less than three seconds behind Smith in 11th.

Smith said: "I think the biggest thing was that if you stay upright you'll get some points, so I tried to play it smart right from the word go.

"I felt better and better as the track started to dry and than from mid race I found myself chasing (Jonas) Folger and then Pol so we then had our own little battle in the final laps.

"I'm super happy to put it together on a Sunday and although it is a wet race, we now need to put this together in the remaining dry races but certainly things are going in the right direction."

Smith is 23rd in the standings with 14 points with five races of the season remaining.

The next round is at Aragon in Spain on September 24.

Pair putt themselves on plane to Portugal

Golf

A NORTH Oxfordshire golfing duo have a chance of winning Europe's biggest pro-am when they compete in the grand final of the Lombard Trophy in sunny Portugal next week.

PGA pro Peter Thompson and amateur David Shields both members of Bicester Golf & Country Club will go head-to-head with 14 other clubs in the 36-hole showdown in the Algarve.

More than 700 clubs entered the popular PGA National Pro-Am Championship, which reaches its climax at Pestana's Vila Sol Golf & Resort Hotel from September 21-22.

Thompson and Shields clinched their spot in Portugal after winning their regional qualifier at Camberley Heath Golf Club in March.

The Bicester pair finished on 11-under-par 60 at the Surrey venue which would normally have been enough to go through to the final but another pair finished on the same score.

It meant the one qualifying place up for grabs went down to a countback and Thompson and Shields won it with a back nine of 28, which included two eagles and a birdie at the 18th.

Shields, a 49-year-old prison officer, said: "I can't wait to get to Portugal. I've never played in anything like this before – it's going to be great.

"I was worried when we tied though, I thought there might be a play-off and I'd had a couple of beers!"

Everyone invited to join free sessions for 'fun, exhilarating hobby'

Basketball

A JOINT initiative bursting with fun has been launched to inspire more people to take part in wheelchair basketball.

Leisure operator Better and two basketball clubs have joined forces to lay on free Friday night sessions hoping to increase the numbers.

Kieran Calvert, who coaches wheelchair basketball in Oxford, helped deliver the inaugural session in Abingdon last month.

The free workout gave 11 players the chance to try wheelchair basketball for the first time and enjoy the physical and social benefits of the sport.

Following the success of the taster class, free sessions will now be held at White Horse Leisure and Tennis Centre in Abingdon.

Players don't have to be wheelchair users to take part.

Megan Horwood, community sports manager at the leisure centre, said: "The launch of wheelchair basketball was a great success. Everyone who took part really enjoyed themselves.

"We had a mix of abilities covering wheelchair basketball club players and those coming to the sport for the first time.

"I'd really encourage all local residents who are looking for a fun, exhilarating hobby to come along and try it for themselves."

Oxford Eagles Wheelchair Basketball and South Oxfordshire Heat Basketball Club are the clubs behind the scheme.

The hour-long sessions will take place every Friday evening from 6.45pm, starting on September 22.

Players of all ages and abilities are welcome.

For more information contact Megan at megan.horwood@gll.org or call 07806194555.

Reversal of fortune with two defeats

Banbury United

BANBURY United's fine start to the season was halted by back-to-back home defeats.

The Puritans had swept aside all before them to claim maximum points after five Evo-Stik South Premier League matches but dropped to seventh after two disappointing results.

Frome Town left the Banbury Plant Hire Community Stadium with a 4-3 win on Saturday before Redditch United left the same stadium with three points in a 3-1 victory.

Banbury were well beaten by an impressive Redditch side. First half Dior Angus and Spencer Weir Daley goals and a second half Danice Johnson strike put the Reds 3-0 up. Jefferson Louis netted in the third minute of injury time for a mere consolation.

On Saturday, the veteran striker broke Tony Jacques' 50-year club record by scoring in the first six league games of the season.

But his late goal came too late to rescue any points in the 4-3 loss.

By the time the 38-year-old found the back of the net on 87 minutes United were already 4-1 down.

Tom Bradbury got Banbury's first of the game but this was sandwiched between two first half Frome goals.

Jon Davies netted a brace to put the visitors out of sight on 72 minutes.

Former Oxford City man Louis scored with three minutes remaining and Leam Howards celebrated his first goal since returning to the club with a stoppage time third – but it was too little too late for United.

Raining goals

ENTERTAINMENT hasn't been in short supply at Oxford City in a week it rained goals at Court Place Farm.

The Hoops thrilled fans with successive 3-3 draws, first against East Thurrock United on Saturday and Weston Super Mare on Tuesday.

City twice came from behind against Weston at a wet and windy Marsh Lane stadium to eventually lead, only to concede a late equaliser.

Both sides were reduced to 10 men. Weston's Aden Baldwin received a straight red just before the half hour when he hauled back Matt Paterson, who was racing in on goal.

City's Freddie Grant collected his second yellow card of the game and headed for an early bath on 75 minutes.

Dayle Grubb goals either side of a Godfrey Poku strike gave the visitors a 2-1 half time lead.

Reece Fleet levelled the scores early in the second period and a spectacular Zak McEachran strike gave Mark Jones' side the lead, two minutes after Grant was given his marching orders.

But the lead didn't last long and Irnh Rapu pulled Weston level a couple of minutes later with a bundled effort.

City keeper Jack Stevens secured a point after pulling off a superb stop to deny Jacob Crane in the last minute.

The Hoops ended their three-match losing streak with another entertaining 3-3 draw against East Thurrock United three days earlier.

Oxford led three times but, each time they got their noses in front, the Rocks clawed their way back to level terms each time.

Boss Jones would have thought his side were on course for winning their first game since mid-August when David Pearce (four minutes), Paterson (35) and Fleet (74) found the back of the net.

But a Sam Higgins strike (13), a Christian Navarro own goal (64) and a Lee Burns goal meant that wait continues.

City, who sit one place outside the relegation zone, travel to Whitehawk on Saturday as they get their FA Cup campaign under way.

Winless in seven games, they return to National League action on September 23 against Eastbourne Borough.

Four-star Gill inspires Blues

Rugby League

A JORDAN Gill-inspired Oxford RL ended their home campaign with a narrow 24-20 win against Coventry Hears at Tilsley Park on Saturday.

Man of the match Gill proved to be the Blues's battering ram as he powered over the line four times to help his side on their way to back-to-back Kingstone Press League 1 Shield victories.

Oxford's confidence was temporarily halted when the Bears hit back with two scores of their own, Hayden Freeman and Jamahl Hunte getting the visitors into the lead.

But that's as good as it got for the away side.

Gill scored his second, third and fourth tries before the buzzer and Harvey Burnett got in on the act too to earn the Blues a handsome 24-8 interval lead.

Error strewn Coventry hit the ground running in the second period as they tried to correct the mistakes.

The visitors made it interesting with four minutes to go when a converted Brad Delaney try pulled the Bears to within four points. But the Blues held strong secure a deserved win.

Mixed fortunes as Vase kicks off

FA Vase/Hellenic

ABINGDON United and Oxford City Nomads are into the second qualifying round of the FA Vase after coming through their first fixtures over the weekend.

The U s beat Highmoor Ibis 1-0 on Saturday before Nomads saw off Woodley United 3-1 the following afternoon.

However it was the end of the journey for Ardley United, Milton United and Easington Sports after all three were defeated.

Wallingford Town, Henley Town and Wantage Town enter in the next round, with matches to be played the weekend of September 23.

Elsewhere, Wantage are up to fifth in the Hellenic Premier Division after a 3-1 win over Brimscombe and Thrupp on Tuesday night.

Nomads couldn't replicate their FA Vase form in their Tuesday night league game, losing 3-0 away at Windsor to sit 15th in the standings.

Abingdon were due to face Brackley Town Saints as we went to press.

All three sides are back in league action on Saturday as Wantage and Abingdon face each other at Alfredian Park, while Nomads host Woodley.

Seven goal hammering leaves Railwaymen way off track

Evo-Stik round up

DIDCOT Town's bright start to the season has taken a drastic turn for the worse following back-to-back rollickings.

The Railwaymen were hammered 7-1 at Cinderford Town in the league on Saturday a result that followed a 5-0 footballing lesson at the hands of Billericay Town in the FA Cup the week before.

But Saturday's scoreline doesn't tell the full story.

Didcot enjoyed the bulk of possession and territory in the first half but trailed 4-0 within half an hour due to defensive gaffes.

An early second half Louis Joyce goal added credence to the belief the visitors would at least make a contest of it.

But once the fifth goal went in seven minutes later against the run of play the Railwaymen folded and the last quarter of the match was painful viewing.

Elsewhere in the Evo-Stik West, North Leigh made a statement of intent with a 5-0 thrashing of Barnstaple Town.

Five different scorers – Eddie Stevens, Will Wellon, Connor Waldon, Michael Hopkins and Mark Magee – all found the back of the net in the Eynsham Park rout.

Kidlington dropped two places to 17th with a 2-2 draw at home to league leaders Taunton Town.

Darius Browne gave the Greens the lead within 10 minutes but Anaclet Odhiambo had to be alert to fire in Kiddy's equaliser right at the death.

In the Evo-Stik East, Thame United got back to winning ways after back-to-back league defeats.

A Lynton Goss brace and a Dan West strike helped United overpower Arlesey Town 3-2 on their travels to Bedfordshire.

Thame are winless at home so far this campaign and host second placed Moneyfields on Saturday.

Eight minutes of goal glory give dominant U's victory

By George Welch

Oxford United 3

Jack Payne 48, Joe Rothwell 54, Rob Hall 56

Gillingham 0

Attendance: 6,730 (382 away)

OXFORD United manager Pep Clotet praised the club's fans following his side's 3-0 dismantling of Gillingham at the Kassam on Saturday.

Second half goals from Jack Payne, Joe Rothwell and Rob Hall made it three goals and three points in a dominant performance but the U's had to wait until the second half to make their superiority count.

Clotet, who has enjoyed a positive start in charge of United, said: "In the end it turned out to be a strong victory in the same way we beat Portsmouth here.

"But I must thank the fans because the game was a bit locked and it took us 10/15 minutes to put our footprint into the game.

"The fans were really patient with the way the team was building up and playing — and we got the win in the second half."

United were the better team throughout but had to wait until the second half to assert their dominance and secure the points.

But what a start to the second half it was.

Three goals in eight minutes made it the second 3-0 win at the Kassam Stadium already this season.

The U's had lift off just three minutes into the second period when Jon Obika cut back a parried Hall effort for Payne to instinctively flick into the back of the net.

And the points were Oxford's with two goals in two minutes.

First, goalscorer Payne turned provider when he played a defence-splitting pass for Rothwell to double the lead with a composed finish on 54 minutes.

Jack Payne powers away from Tom Eaves to give Oxford the lead and below, Joe Rothwell shrugs off Gabriel Zakuani for the second

Gillingham, who remain winless in the league this season, were all at sea and moments later it was 3-0 when Obika backheeled into the path of Hall, whose shot powered beyond Tomas Holy at his near post.

And United should have had more when substitutes Wes Thomas, Alex Mowatt and Gino van Kessel (three times) all went close after establishing the lead.

Clotet said moving the ball around quicker in the second half was the difference.

Echoing his gaffer's thoughts debutant John Mousinho who made his 400th league appearance, said: "They made it very difficult for us in the first half and we probably didn't move the ball quick enough.

"We came out in the second half with a completely different mindset and mentality. We opened them up, got the goal and the game really opened up for us. It was pleasing all round."

Points lost in final seconds

United struggled to cause Bradford any real problems, and, with the home fans desperate for something to shout about in the second half, Payne tested Doyle from range on 55 minutes.

Joe Rothwell gave United the lead – but it wasn't enough in the end

The Bantams went close to doubling their lead when the lively Patrick struck the bar as the hour approached.

Gino van Kessel and Alex Mowatt replaced Henry and Payne as U's boss Pep Clotet shuffled his pack to find some creativity.

The reshuffle paid off and the U's were level soon after.

City stopper Doyle could only palm away a stinging van Kessel effort from range and Thomas, who had done nothing up to this point, won the race to the rebound to tuck away the equaliser.

United looked to have completed the turnaround when van Kessel slid a pass for Rothwell who finished expertly under pressure.

But Romain Vincelot's header snatched a point for Bradford with less than 30 seconds remaining.

Mehmeti: I've missed working with Pep

OXFORD United have bolstered their forward line with the addition of Albanian international striker Agon Mehmeti.

The 27 year old admitted he has missed U's boss Pep Clotet who coached him alongside fellow players Ricardinho and Ivo Pekalski at Malmo in 2016.

Described as a 'natural finisher by Clotet, Mehmeti was out of contract and could therefore make the move to the Kassam Stadium outside the transfer window.

He has played across Europe and spent pre-season in Sweden while he kept his options open after leaving Turkish club Genclerbirligi in the summer.

Mehmeti said: "It's a dream because the [English] league is the biggest in the world. It was an easy decision for me.

"I am a better player than last time I played with Pep. I am older and of course I have had some bumps in my career with injuries and stuff like that — this is football.

"But I am looking forward to working with Pep again because I miss him. He's a great coach and I know what he's capable of."

Mehmeti, who will be eased into action, was born in the former Yugoslavia but moved to Sweden when he was two.

A graduate of Malmo's youth system, he became their top scorer in 2009/10 when they won the league.

He represented Sweden at Under 19 and Under 21 levels until he chose to play for Albania, winning three caps for his native country in 2013 as a full international.

In between two spells at Malmo where he played in the Champions League he played in Italy for Palermo and on loan in Othanense, Portugal and Novara in the Italian second division.

Clotet said Mehmeti is a player "who has a fantastic track record when it comes to finishing."

Twenty seconds of heartbreak for U's

Rob Hall was denied a penalty shout in what was ultimately a nearly night for Oxford United against Bradford City Picture: Steve Daniels

By George Welch

HEARTBROKEN Oxford United had three points stolen from them in the last 20 seconds as Bradford City snatched a point for a 2-2 draw on Tuesday

The U s had left it late themselves after Joe Rothwell gave United a 2 1 lead with a cool finish with three min utes to go

Bradford, who rarely threatened throughout the evening at a chilly Kassam Stadium, took the lead against the run of play through Omari Patrick.

Oxford United 2

Wes Thomas 74 Joe Rothwell 87

Bradford City 2

Omari Patrick 30 Romain Vincelot 90+4

Attendance: 6,558 (403 away)

It took Oxford until the 74th minute to find an equaliser when Wes Thomas tucked home a rebounded effort before the two late goals provided a thrilling finale.

Man of the match Rob Hall, full of confidence after scoring four goals in three games prior to this clash, buzzed about and was often the focal point of United's attack.

The winger had the first chance of the match as he twisted and turned through the Bradford defence to fire an effort that warmed the gloves of Colin Doyle in the City goal.

Hall, who had a penalty appeal controversially turned away midway through the first half, displayed more wizardry when he cut in from the right and was a whisker away from opening the scoring with a low drive.

James Henry had a header palmed away by Doyle and Jack Payne threatened when he hassled and forced Nathaniel Knight-Percival into a mistake

Bradford took the lead against the run of play with their first serious threat on Simon Eastwood s goal.

With 30 minutes on the clock, winger Patrick picked up the loose ball and fired into the far corner with a delightful curling effort

Happy with display, sad at the result

FEP Clotet admitted there were mixed emotions in the Oxford United dressing room following Tuesday s dramatic draw with Bradford City

United trailing in the final 20 minutes would have taken a point when Wes Thomas levelled the tie in the final third of the game

But a late Joe Rothwell goal flipped the game on its head and, when the final whistle blew and emotions were still running high, the last-gasp Bradford equaliser made it feel like a defeat.

The United boss said: "The dressing room was happy about the display but was angry sad and frustrated because we didn t keep the lead

"The players know this is football and it's about swallowing the result and focusing on how well we did "

He added "I knew it was going to be a very tough even game but I wanted us to compete and that s why I m very happy with what the players achieved even though I m disappointed with the result "

Both sides have only lost once in the league so far this season – the U's unbeaten at home and Bradford away – so perhaps it wasn t much of a surprise that this one ended all square

Clotet, pleased with how his players are gelling so early in the season, believes it was a point gained and not two points dropped

The Spaniard said "This is absolutely a point gained I th nk this point w ll matter "

Oxford who would have shot up to fourth with a win slipped to eighth with the draw and travel to Blackpool on Saturday
